Criteria for applicants seeking support

- Applicants can be individuals or organisations.
- Applications should relate to training or research in the field of historic buildings, built landscape features, monuments or sculpture conservation.
- Applicants should explain why they have an interest in building, built landscape features, monuments or sculpture conservation.
- Applicants should set out how and why the training or research would assist skills and career development and how this would support the conservation of historic buildings, built landscape features, monuments or sculpture in the future.
- Applicants should explain their financial position and why Drake Trust support would help to carry out the planned training or research.
- Although there is no obligation, successful applicants are encouraged to donate to the Trust when they are in a financial position to do this.
- Applications should be concise, including letter, CV and any other supporting information felt essential, and sent to:
